Overview and Important Information

Keyfuels is one of the UK's largest multi-branded fuel card networks. It has access to over 3,400 conveniently located sites, 890+ being HGV friendly.

Keyfuels cards are accepted at 70% of motorway sites. Garages can include Esso, BP, Jet, Morrisons, Texaco, Gulf, Tesco, Applegreen and others.

Tesco sites are accessible for convenience. These stations are charged higher than the advertised pump price.

All products outside of standard diesel, including AdBlue, are available for convenience with the Keyfuels card but are also charged higher than advertised.

Your Card

Manned Refuelling Sites

If you are unsure if the station will accept your Keyfuels card, please check with the cashier.

1. Refuel your vehicle noting the pump number, volume of fuel drawn and your mileage.
2. Replace the pump nozzle and return to the till operator. The majority of stations will require a signature.
3. Your receipt will show the volume of fuel drawn (not your price), check the receipt details carefully before signing.
4. Ensure that the correct fuel card is returned to you before leaving.

Unmanned Refuelling Sites (Outdoor payment terminals)

Your PINs have been sent to you via email. You can also find your PINs on the portal under 'Card Management'.

1. Insert fuel card (chip face up and chip end first) and then follow the on screen instructions.
2. If prompted, enter your mileage.
3. If prompted, enter your vehicle registration number.
4. If prompted, enter the number of the pump you intend to use.
5. When you have refuelled, replace the pump nozzle and return to the fuel card reader.
6. Re-insert your fuel card into the fuel card reader.
NOTE: this will allow you to obtain a receipt and update the fuel cards chip with details of your drawing.
7. Remove your fuel card and take your receipt.
